ROBERTA BAYLEY & GODLIS

EXHIBITION

Palazzo Thiene. Vicenza, Italy

31.03.2023 - 14.05.2023

Roberta Bayley and David Godlis are defined as the photographers of Punk. They experienced the dawn and ferment of the New York Punk scene which, starting from the mid-1970s, developed around the CBGB, a well-known club on the Bowery. Through shots of the protagonists of the time, who have now become icons of music and style, Roberta Bayley and David Godlis have managed to document the evolution and decline of that movement, forever crystallized in their images.

Roberta Bayley and David Godlis know every nook and cranny of those places and have an amount of unwritten information about that period that could fill an encyclopedia.

This is a unique opportunity to dive into one of the most vital periods in New York City which belonged to Patti Smith, David Byrne, Richard Lloyd, Debbie Harry, the Ramones and many other artists who have marked entire generations over the decades to come.

The event and the exhibition are organized by Andrea Compagnin, creator and curator and Matteo Bussi with the patronage of the Municipality of Vicenza and in collaboration with AGSM-AIM, Toyota Oliviero, Stand By, Blunt Skateshop, Essequadro Arte and Cornici, Oca Bianca da Hugh.

ROBERTA BAYLEY

Roberta worked as a door person at CBGB's, New York's legendary Lower East Side punk club and subsequently befriended leading musicians on the punk scene.

She is known as one of the principal photographers to visually chronicle the punk rock music movement from the mid 70s through the early 80s.

Roberta was also the chief photographer for Punk magazine.

GODLIS

Photographer David Godlis is perhaps best known for his grainy black and white images of New York nightclub CBGB, when it was home to punk scene legends including the Ramones, Patti Smith, Blondie and Talking Heads.

Born in Manhattan in 1951, Godlis began taking photos in his sophomore year at Boston University. He has since become one of the most important imagemakers of his generation, working as the photographer for Film at Lincoln Center since the late 80s and the unofficial photographer of the New York Film Festival for the last 25 years.
